Marine Eco-Tourism Internship Opportunity in Cape Town

The driving force behind our marine eco-tours is to create a deeper appreciation and awareness of the ocean, impacting the way in which people think about the marine environment. We believe that if people develop a connection with the ocean, they will be more motivated to protect it. By inspiring a love and understanding of the marine environment, specifically what we have in Table Bay, we believe half the battle for conservation is already won.

We are offering an exciting internship opportunity for a dedicated undergraduate or postgraduate student (or recent graduate) in marine science or a related field. This flexible position is designed to accommodate your study commitments while providing invaluable experience in the marine eco-tourism industry.

Key Responsibilities:

- Taking guests on guided marine Eco-Tours / Ocean Safaris, together with our skipper, sharing knowledge about the local marine ecosystem.
- Assisting with the cleaning and maintenance of the boat
- Ticket sales
- Administrative tasks, including managing sales records
- Contributing to a positive guest experience

What We Offer:

- The chosen candidate/s will receive Marine Eco-Tour Guide Training from the Two Oceans Aquarium Foundation and will get a certificate upon completion of the internship.
- A daily stipend to cover your expenses
- Opportunity to earn commission on ticket sales
- A flexible work schedule to suit your academic commitments
- The chance to work in one of the most beautiful and biodiverse marine environments in the world
- Hands-on experience in marine conservation, tourism, and science

Position to start mid-October 2026.

Applications close 14/10/20206.

If you're passionate about marine life and eager to learn in a dynamic, hands-on environment, apply today and be part of our exciting team in Cape Town! Candidates that are interested in a “full time” position are also encouraged to apply.
